The 19th quadrennial FIFA World Cup tournament with 32 teams from 6 continents starts June 11, 2010 with South Africa vs. Mexico in Johannesburg, South Africa

In August 2007 a 2 year qualification process for the World Cup began. Two hundred four countries' national soccer teams (all-star teams) competed. After 848 matches 32 teams were left.

In December 2009 the 32 teams were randomly drawn into eight four-team groups by drawing from 4 pots: Pot 1 consisted of South Africa and the top 7 seeds (Brazil, Spain, Netherlands, Italy, Germany, Argentina, and England) based on the FIFA World rankings on October 2009. Pot 2 was composed of teams from Asia, Oceania, and North and Central America and the Caribbean. Pot 3 included teams from Africa and South America. Pot 4 had the remaining European teams. In the draw geographical criteria were respected, meaning that no two teams from the same confederation were drawn in the same group (except European teams, where a maximum of two will be in a group); i.e., South Africa cannot play the African teams from Pot 3 and Argentina and Brazil cannot be drawn against the three remaining South American teams. Each team will play the other three teams in their group.

A win is worth three points, a draw is worth 1 and you get no points for a loss.

The two teams in each group with the most points after the three matches advance. The other two are eliminated.

After narrowing the field down to 16, the tournament switches to a knockout format.

The eight group winners play the runners-up from another group and teams keep playing until there is one winner. There can't be any ties in the knockout phase, so if the match is knotted up after 90 minutes, they'll play two 15 minute periods of extra time. If the teams are still tied, they'll move on to penalty kicks.

The number of places allotted to each continent is based on the strength of each continent's teams

Europe \(53 teams 13 places\) -- 3 points for a win, 1 for a draw, 0 for a loss

Glossary

Pitch – Place where the game is played. You might call it a field

Box – The rectangle 18 yards from the goal line where the goalie stands, and the area in which he's allowed to use his hands

Yellow card – A warning from the referee to a player for misconduct

Red card – An act of violent conduct – or a second yellow card – that results in the offending player being sent off the field. He can not be replaced, and thus his team must play with 10 men, better known as being “a man down.”

Flop or dive – When a player falls to the ground as if he's been horribly injured when, in fact, he was just trying to get a free kick from the referee.

Offside rule - OK, it's like this. In order to receive a pass in the opponent's half of the field, there must be two players between the guy receiving the pass and the goal. One of those is almost always going to be the goal keeper. This rule does not apply on passes to players running behind the ball.

Own goal - When a player kicks or heads the ball into his own net

Corner kick – If a team kicks or heads the ball over the line behind their own goal, the opposing team gets to put the ball down at the corner flag and knock it into the box.

Direct free kick - is a method of restarting play in a game of association football following a penalty foul (e.g. dangerous play). Unlike an indirect free kick, a goal may be scored directly against the opposing side without the ball having first touched another player.

Indirect free kick - is awarded to the opposing team when a player commits a foul other than a penalty foul. Unlike a direct free kick, a goal may not be scored directly from the kick. An indirect free kick is also awarded to the opposing team when play is stopped to caution or send-off a player when no specific foul has occurred. The most common cause is the offside offence.

Penalty kick (or penalty) - is a type of free kick in association football, taken from twelve yards out from goal and with only the goalkeeper of the defending team between the penalty taker and the goal. It is awarded to the fouled team following a foul usually punishable by a direct free kick but that has occurred within their opponent's penalty area.

Penalty Area (the box) - The marked area around each goal, measuring 18x44 yards, within which the defending keeper has the privilege of handling the ball, and inside which a penal foul by the defensive team will result in a penalty kick. (colloquially also known as the 18-yard box, penalty box or simply the box)

Touch Line - The boundary lines marking each sideline of the field.

Goal kick - A goal kick is awarded to the defending team when the ball leaves the field of play by crossing the goal line (either on the ground or in the air) without a goal having been scored, having been last touched by an attacking player. The ball is initially placed anywhere within the defending goal area. All opposing players must be outside the penalty area until the ball is in play.

Penalty fouls -

1. Kicking at an opponent, not the ball. Contact does not have to be made.
2. Tripping an opponent. The player does not have to fall down.
3. Jumping at an opponent. Contact does not have to be made.
4. Charging an opponent violently or from behind.
5. Striking (hitting) or attempting to strike an opponent.
6. Pushing an opponent.
7. When tackling, contacting the opponent before touching the ball.
8. Holding an opponent.
9. Spitting at an opponent (red card offense).
10. Handling the ball deliberately (except the keeper within the keepers own penalty area).

Non-Penal (minor) fouls -

1. Dangerous Play: A player does something to endanger himself or others. Most common are high kicks when another players head is near, or low headers near other players feet.

2. Impeding the progress of an opponent when not within playing distance of the ball. This used to be called obstruction.

3. Obstructing the Goalkeeper.

Confederation - the groups or zones for world cup qualifying created by FIFA. They are CONCACAF(North American, Central America and the Caribbean), CONMEBOL (South America),CAF (Africa), AFC (Asia and Australia), Oceania (New Zealand and other island Pacific nations) and UEFA (Europe).

Friendlies - A soccer match between two countries' national teams that is more for practice and testing out players, It does not count for World Cup qualification.

The match ball for the 2010 FIFA World Cup will be named the "Jabulani", made by Adidas, which means "bringing joy to everyone" in Zulu; it features eleven colors, one for each player on the pitch, it retails for $150.

The official mascot for the 2010 FIFA World Cup is Zakumi, an anthropomorphised leopard with green hair. His name comes from "ZA", the international abbreviation for South Africa, and "kumi", a word that means "ten" in various African languages. The mascot's colors reflect those of the host nation's playing strip – yellow and green.
